JULY EDITION

The children have received some new books which they have been looking at. They have been learning about different insects, flowers and birds. They have already started to identify bugs and plants they have seen in Forest School before.

We have been encouraging the children to explore different crafty ideas using foraged materials. For a couple of sessions the children have been making clay faces on the cyprus tree.

JULY EDITION

The children had the opportunity to decorate their own wooden bunting pieces using acrylic pens. We have hung these up in the Forest School area for the children to see each session.

The children have been doing a fantastic job with their gardening this month.

Our sunflowers are now towering at just under 2 metres. We have also had some nasturtium flowers grow and a surprise tomato plant which we found in our compost box.
