This month the children have been enjoying watching the autumn colours on display and watching the leaves and seeds fall from the trees. They have been making lots of images and art with these natural resources.

With the frogs hiding and starting to hibernate in preparation for the winter, the children have been collecting lots of organic materials to create a "dead hedge". They have been using their rakes and wheelbarrows.

With the autumn showers and full waterbutts, the children have not been shy to create their own small ponds.

Immersing themselves in welly deep puddles, using pipes to create waterways as well as creating muddy puddles and mud pies in the garden bed.

The children have been learning about outdoor safety in autumn. We have been talking about and looking at wild mushrooms and berries. The children have been singing songs about being safe and not consuming or touching them with their bare hands.

So many conkers! We are so grateful to everyone who has participated in the competition this month and brought lots of pine cones and conkers to the nursery. We have been having heaps of fun counting and sorting them. Watch this space for more conker activities and crafts!

Lots of excitement here at Norfolk Road as we have been spotting our frogs and seeing how big they have gotten!
