

FOREST SCHOOL NEWSLETTER

OCTOBER

The children have been making faces using natural autumnal materials and talking about different emotions.

Our babies have been continuing to enjoy Forest School this month. They have been exploring lots of autumnal sensory activities; including splashing, pouring, transporting, climbing, balancing, crunching leaves, getting muddy and plenty of conker and acorn related activities!

OCTOBER

Our preschoolers and toddlers have been looking out for mycelium and fruiting fungi in the Forest School area. We have been discussing outdoor safety with the children and reminding them not to eat wild berries and mushrooms.

The children have been continuing to look for creepy crawlies under damp stumps and the bark. They are becoming more and more confident observing, holding and identifying different types of insects.
