With all the rain we've received over the past couple of months, the children have enjoyed the novelty task of building mini shelters. They practiced using their pincer grip skills to attach the tarpauline to the poles with big clips.

We took advantage of the dry days we had towards the end of this month and cooked something new on the campfire ... pancakes!

The children were so excited to have the campfire back again and devoured every single last crumb!

The children have been using their new garden riddles (seives), to prepare the garden bed for their spring bulbs and garlic, which they have sown and they are enjoying watching them sprout.

There's been lots of activity going on in the mud kitchen as we have started to introduce fresh herbs and spices. They have been curious to learn their names and smell them.
